| Reason:            | The Chowder Barge was built as a support vessel for the filming of the major motion picture "Munity On The Bounty." Other past uses include a houseboat and machine shop. It was converted into a restaurant circa 1970 by the Panter family. The barge was previously located in the Long Beach harbor, where it was ferro cemented. In 1988, it was moved for the Port of Long Beach expansion to its current location. Because it was converted to its current use in the past fifty years, more research is required to understand its importance to the community. |
